Fentanyl & Xylazine Test Strips

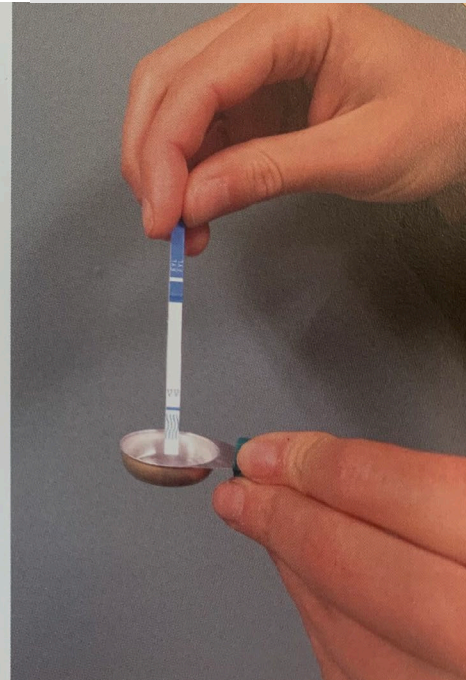

Using Fentanyl Test Strips

A wide variety of street drugs can be laced with Fentanyl. Fentanyl and Fentanyl analogs are highly potent synthetic opioids that are responsible for many drug overdoses worldwide.

Fentanyl is not normally mixed evenly, thus it is important to test substance every time it is intended to be used. In addition, the test strips cannot detect all types of fentanyl.

You could still overdose even if your strip does not detect Fentanyl in your heroin, cocaine or other street drug. People who use fentanyl test strips accept all responsibility for any injury or death that could occur after taking drugs.

Harm Reduction Kit

GOALS:

- Safer drug use
- Reduce infectious disease - such as HIV, Hepatitis C and drug overdose
- Linkages to care
